Selections from Memory Dump Analysis

Aphorisms

Word of Memory.

I'm stored -> therefore I am.

The road to immortality is paved with memory dumps.

I don't read mere books -> I analyze memory dumps -> Books are memory dumps <->
Memory dumps are books.

Memory first -> Being second.

Everything is memory dump.

Memory dumps are facts.

I am because we memory dump and because we memory dump therefore I am.

The Past is a Memory Dump.

This testament doesn't supersede all others -> it backs them up.

The Source of Intuition about Infinite

What is the source of our intuition about ω_1 or ω_2 , more powers of ω_1 and even ω number of powers? I believe that the underlying structure of our Universe or at least a universe as a model of Universe, Infinite Memory, with perceived processes as limits and Time Arrow as a bundle of sequences of memory pointers, provides basis for our intuition about infinite.

Memory Dumps as Relics

Some memory dumps can serve the role of a relic and be the subject of veneration. For example, a universal memory dump that reveals the eternity and infinity of Memory. Speaking about earthly artifacts, like computer memory dumps, some of them could be relics and subjects of personal veneration after being generated from a cult system or when a venerated person was working on a computer, for example, doing code construction or writing and composing great works of significant value.

Panmemorism

This is another description of a memoidealistic philosophical worldview that memory exists in everything, living and nonliving. In its even stronger form, panmemorism is also a theory that memory is a part of itself, thus adding an infinite element and providing a foundation for perceived processes.

Memoranic Ritual

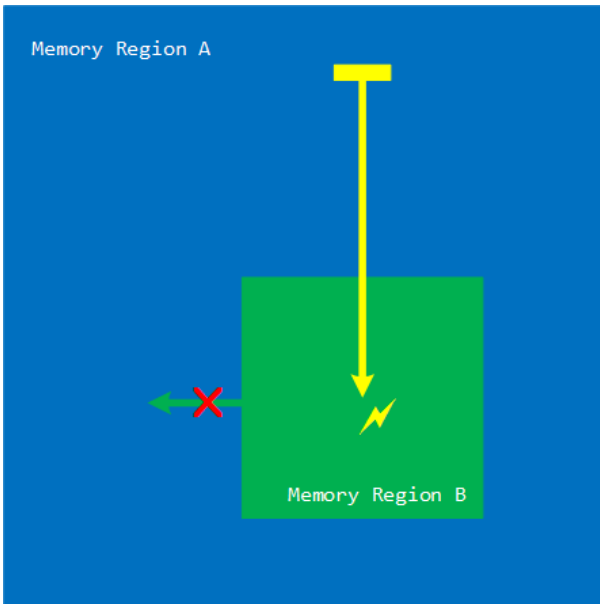

Memoriarch

It is the highest title in Memorianic religious hierarchy. It is equivalent to similar titles of Pope, Patriarch or Archbishop. Derived from Memoria (Latin, memory) and arch (Latin root, chief, first, rule).

On God and Miracles

Memoidealism explains God as Inaccessible Memory (Memory Region A on the picture below). It means that Memory Region B doesn't have pointers that point outside of it. In other words, all operating fields of Region B pointers are in Region B. However, Region A can have pointers pointing to Region B and modify it, effectively producing a miracle as perceived by Region B. In other words, some perception field links of Region B pointers may come from outside. You can object that Region B can have deeper pointers by making their memory locations bigger (from N-bit to $2*N$ -bit for example) but Memory may not be flat, discrete and bit-like.

Memory Creates God

Where's God in Memorianty (memory religion)? In memoidealism (which is a metaphysical foundation of Memorianty) Memory is the basis of everything and in its memuonic formulation memuons play the role of memory-instants. Their patterns also involve emergents on every hierarchy level with Mind emerging at some memory organization level and then out of mind level we have emerging Deity.

Morality and Memorianity

Memorianity provides a foundation for moral conduct, individual and social character development because it is based on a revelation that everything is saved. The theistic variation of this memory religion has also an organic and harmonious notion of Memory Deity.

Memorianity promotes the will to be memorized as a virtue if all your deeds are virtuous.
